

Brenda G. Hamilton

Shareholder

Brenda regularly represents businesses of all sizes in courts across the nation in a wide variety of complex commercial litigation. She has extensive experience handling high-stakes litigation involving business torts, contract disputes, consumer fraud, trade secret theft, breach of noncompetition agreements, employment discrimination, FLSA and wage and hour violations, trucking/transportation related lawsuits, and insurance coverage disputes. She has successfully handled many class action lawsuits in state and federal courts across the nation involving consumer fraud, employment discrimination, and FLSA/wage and hour claims. Brenda is Chair of the eDiscovery Committee, where she spearheads the firm's efforts to continually provide high-quality and state-of-the-art litigation services to its clients. She is also on the firm's Mentors Committee serving as a Mentor to our Associate Attorneys, and is the immediate past Chair of the firm's Litigation Practice Group.

Your business can benefit from Brenda's broad litigation experience.

When you work with Brenda, you will find that she is well-versed in litigation strategies that can help resolve or reduce the scope of your litigation early in the case. Her broad experience helps her spot issues that other litigation attorneys might miss and can help her convince the other party that its case is weak. She will work diligently and efficiently to find a way to resolve your dispute as quickly as possible, including using dispositive motions to try to get the lawsuit dismissed as early as possible. By doing so, she can help you avoid drawn out litigation and the expense and uncertainty of a trial. However, when it serves your best interest, she stands ready to take your case to trial.

Clients appreciate Brenda's high degree of integrity and practical problem-solving solutions.

As a business owner herself, Brenda understands the concerns of business owners and always seeks to provide value not just as a trusted attorney, but also as a trusted business advisor. She makes a point of understanding her clients' businesses, which she believes allows her to be more effective in both roles. The advice you receive from Brenda will be practical and effective. It will help your company's litigation move forward quickly and efficiently without unnecessary legal work or delays. You can rely on her advice without having to second guess if the recommended legal strategy is right for your situation. Regardless of whether your business is large or small, Brenda will work with you to find practical, cost-effective solutions for addressing your business litigation matters.
